Why choose timber?

When you're looking to add class and beauty to your home, it makes sense to work with a material that has stood the test of time. Timber has a unique quality that simply can't be reproduced by man-made materials.

The texture and grain of natural wood gives every piece we make its own personality. Joinery by Timberware can transform the mood of your home, creating a feeling of warmth, comfort and class.

Timber windows outperform aluminium for insulating your home against heat or cold. When teamed with low-emittance coated glass, they provide exceptional energy efficiency for your home.

Because every species of timber has a unique look and feel, our experienced team will be happy to help you make the right choice to complement your project. We can produce your joinery from species such as Red Cedar, New Guinea Rosewood, Silky Oak and many other Australian hardwoods.
